Zentere provides a full range of IT, training development, and web-based solutions, to federal, commercial and not-for-profit organizations.

Since 2003, Zentere has provided project support and team lead services, and based on our substantial business and technology experience, has assisted clients in developing their overall strategy and/or business case for a wide variety of initiatives and programs.

As organizations today strive to utilize technology to support their audiences and stakeholders, they must constantly evaluate their existing systems and assets vs. the myriad of tools and technologies on the market. Because Zentere is tool and technology agnostic and can often customize off-the-shelf tools to fit organization-specific requirements, we excel at helping organizations make the most informed and intelligent choices.

Web-Based Event Calendar System

Zentere's Web – based Event Calendar assist organizations to organize and schedule into a single enterprise-wide system, providing one view into a universe of event information. It is a multi-user calendar system that displays and tracks all the events. Easy to setup and use, it provides advanced features and flexibility to serve the purposes of a wide base of users. Our web based calendars are used by several U.S. Counties, Corporations, and other organizations of all sizes to communicate internal and external events via a website or intranet.

Online Project Management System

This is a Unique Project Management System (OPMS), which is used by all full-time, temporary and work study employees in replacement of the orthodox paper based summary system. OPMS provides many features beyond the capability of the old paper based system. Please contact us to know more about this product.
